nearry swept her decks. This was not discovered till she was aground, and her destruction inevitable.

A sensi-official secount of the naval engagement says, after the arrival of the army from Baton Houge, and the ekirmishes of Sakurday, afternoon, Admiral Farragut's fleet, which was at anchor 5 or 6 miles below Port Hudson, prepared to pass the batteries. The signals for the advance was made at half past into o'clock, a beautiful startight night. The Hartford, with the Abstraces alongside, took the lead, and successfully passed the batteries, but with what damage we are not informed, as there had of course been no communication with them since their passage. The Richmond and Genesee followed. The Richmond was exposed to the fire of all the batteries, and received shot through her sleam drum, and was obliged to fall back out of range. Her loss was three men killed and seven wounded. Lieut. Charles Boyd Crammings was mortally wounded. A shot from the natteries took off his left log below the knee. The shot passed through the anoke stack of the gumboxt. He dide on the 17th at New Oricans. Enunciation of the Better Policy.

[Special Dispatch to the Chicago Tribuna.]

Camo, Marel 30, 1988.

No boots arrived from below. Adjutant General L. Thomas, to-day, in company with Gen. Buford and his staff, witnessed a parade of the 35th Iowa, commanded by Col. Hill, and afterwards reviewed the toops. The exhibition was creditable to the 35th After the parade, Gen. Thomas made a speech to the soldlers, in which he took occasion to reveal a portion of his business in the Southwest. He siluded to the matter of receiving colored men into the lines, and reprobated the manner in which some had been treated, instancing officer to receive and treat kindly the slaves who should come within the times, and any known to do otherwise he would himself, by authority in him rested, discharge them from the service. It was the policy of the Government to deprive the rebels of laboring men. As fast as received, let them be organized into companies. He was authorized to form into regiments all suitable men and place white officers over them, and put them to proper use in conditing the rebellion. Grant's command. The camp of rendezvous for contrabands, now at this point, by order of Gen. Hurlbut, will be soon removed to made the rounds of the forts, barracks, quarters, negro quarters, and hospitals, and inspected each carefully. The hospital was re, ported in excellent condition.

Caino, March 80.—By order of Gen. Hurbut, the contraband camps at Columbus and Cairo, will be broken up and transferred to Island No. 10, where they will be employed in cultivating land. Chapisin Baton, superintendent of the contrabands at Columbus, is charged with the extention of this order. This order includes women and children, and all negroes not in flower manual careful.

A misapprehension exists as to letters of marque and reprisal. The Novy Department has nothing to do with the subject, which be longs to the State Department.

A special to the Jost says that it is again rua special to the recessive that it is again removed that Mr. Chase will visit New Yor this week, but the report is unfounded. Gen. Hooker said to Gov. Curtin during the visit of the latter so Palmouth, that he commanded the facest army on the planet. He reported that Gen. Hartenff is president of the court, martial for the trial of Col. D'Utasay, which is soon to convene, though there is a probability of his being assigned to other duty. Major Theopholis Gaines will be Judga Advocate.

In front of Hooker a mistake, and think the rebuls are consentrating everything against Rosecram.

Gen. Hooker does not credit these stories but it is too muddy to feet their correctness.

Washinstron, Harch 20.—The Shenendonh Valley from Front Royal to Terryville, having never yet been fully drained of its grientural supplies, like other portions of the State, may account for the reported presence in that section of Fishings Loc. who was reported to be larking about Front Royal with his acouts and pickets; ranging down among Bull Run Monntains. They recently barred the temporary fridge with which our forces had replaced the stone bridge over Bull Run, destroyed in the first campain. There is no doubt that rebel agents are collecting grain and other supplies in Loudon and Farquiar counties.

The roads in Virginia are fast drying up.

THE PROPLE DROWNED OUT. THE PROFIE DROWNED OUT.

The people are drowned out, and daily come into Providence to seek shelter from the wrath to come. Our officers display a commendable degree of hospitality and hamanity in providing houses for the houseless once, and food for the hungry ones. The planters complain bifterly that their negroes are becoming demoralized in the presence of the army. They will not work, and are daily leaving "kind masters" to seek the doubtful protection of the soldiers. This argues body for the patriaschal institution. Many planters are sending their alares from home, and refuse to feed those who remain. The fact is slavery as an institution, however profitable in time of peace, don't pay in time of war, mis voice was crear and his sentences well constructed. His ideas never became confused. If it was not wonderful self-control, it was insceptibility to death equally wonderful in such a man. So perfect was his self-mastery, or indifference, that it was not till he sat down on his coffin hint we could realize that he was about to die. Mis calmness seemed to dissipate the sense of perfl entirely, and it required an effort, after looking at his steady eye, paie, unmoved face, and unchanging altitude, to bring back the appalling fact which the loaded guns and solemn crowd so forcibly declared, that Death was in the very act of smacking that man from earth. Even when he sat down on his coffin, and the Sergeant Major was blindfolding him, he calmiy draw his knees up so as to set his feet against the safe of the coffin, and steadied himself on his terrible seet, as it he was fixing an stitute for a photograph. Underground Hall Routes.

(Prost the Lonisville Journal, 28th.)

The rebots have a grapevine telegraph, not very reliable to be ware, and there is no doubt that there is wreplant correspondence between their sympathicers in the injector of our State and their armies in Dritis, by means of an underground mail rosts carried on by farmie reboil in Kentsucky, and thus on through the United States undits. It is well known, for instance, that in Lebaston, Marton county, the reboil women are constantly receiving letters from the border counties through the mails or otherwise, and answering them in the same way. This is effected through agents at certain offices on the borders of the State to whom letters are directed exclosing others of the sense that there are assured that there is scarcely a mail arriving at Lebanon from Burksville, Camberhand country of Son-creet, Painki country, that does not contain letters for active female robels in that town. This may all be proper knully or friendly correspondence, but we cannot resist the opinion had much important information is thus west forward to the robel leaders, and intelligence of their contempisated invasions received in return. Octain it is that the Lebanon robels are thoroughly ported in regard to the movements of the robel leaders, and anticipating their arrival, and rejoicing over the prospect of another raid into Kantueky.
